

Hightower™

Plasma

Plasma is a flexible concept in public bench seating. While it functions perfectly as an individual abstract piece, it can also be used in different combinations to form more unique and distinctive spaces. The four different sizes facilitate various possibilities for expression and functionality. The large Plasma has room for up to ten people and its organic shape allows users to face each other naturally while sitting, making it easy to strike up a conversation. Floor mounting kit available. Product qualifies for LEED MR 5.1 Regional Materials.
